Truman Spread Lies About Him, Byrnes Charges

By ED CREAM
WASHINGTON—(AP)—James F. Byrnes today accused President Truman of spreading falsehoods about him and of substituting "fiction for history" in describing U. S. Russian relations in the dangerous months of the developing cold war.

The South Carolina governor, who was Truman's Secretary of State from 1945 until early 1947, replied in a scathing article published in Collier's Magazine to statements Truman made about him in the recent book "Mr. President."

Never Heard of Memo
Byrnes went beyond denying—as he has done before—that he got a personal dressing down from Truman right after the Moscow conference of 1945. By Truman's account, the President read Byrnes a memo saying he was tired of "babbling the Soviets." Byrnes said he never heard of any such memo, and then:

1—He charged that Truman was quick to use "strong language" against the Russians but "he did

Seizure Remark Irks Newsmen

By JACK RUTLEDGE
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Editors of leading American newspapers today hoped for White House clarification of President Truman's news conference remark which implied he felt he had the right to seize newspapers and radio stations, as he did the steel industry, if it would best serve the country.

Some of the editors who were among the 20 newsmen present at the conference yesterday protested afterward that if such power exists the nation is close to dictatorship.

The explosive issue was touched off when the President was asked this question: "If it is proper to seize the steel mills, can you in your opinion, seize the newspapers and radio stations?"

Truman replied that under similar circumstances, the President of the United States has to act for whatever is for the best of the country. That is the answer he added.

Many editors promptly interpreted this as implying, if not specifically claiming, the power to seize newspapers and radio stations as he seized the strike-threatened steel industry last week.

In the noise of the crowded conference room, some reporters understood Truman to say definitely that he has such power but a recheck indicated his reply was not that direct.

Steel Officials Await Final Decision Today On Wage-Price Boost

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, boss of the steel industry, conferred separately today with industry leaders and CIO President Philip Murray—but nobody would talk afterward.

Sawyer was generally believed to be preparing to make a government-imposed wage increase deal for Murray's 650,000 steel workers.

Trying For Agreement
It was possible, though not considered likely, that the secretary was trying to arrange an industry-union agreement that could enable return of the seized steel mills to their private owners.

Sawyer told reporters all concerned had agreed to say nothing about the talks. He said he may have a statement later in the day, but was not sure.

One company official told a reporter after the session with Sawyer that to him the situation

Teachers Weed Out Subversives

DETROIT—(AP)—The Michigan Education Association, made up of 34,000 school teachers, is committed to ouster of any subversives within its membership.

The MEA ended its centennial convention here yesterday by passing a resolution calling for its various districts to take the initiative in expelling subversive groups "or members of our organization who fail to meet the accepted standards of professional ethics."

No one opposed passage of the resolution.

Russell H. Wilson, MEA president and superintendent of schools at Alpena, said no Communist party members were known to be members of the association.

"However," he added, "the association wants to be in a position to dispose of subversive members of they should turn up in the future."

The association's board of directors must pass on the resolution to determine if it should become part of the MEA's rules and regulations.

Changes Made On MSC Staff; Dean To Retire

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Michigan State College announced 42 staff changes today, including shifts in top administrative posts.

The State Board of Agriculture, governing body, announced that Dean Lloyd C. Emmons of the School of Arts and Sciences, will retire, being succeeded by Dr. Milton E. Muelder, head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration.

Dean Emmons, a staff member for 43 years, is chairman of the athletic council and played a prominent part in securing Michigan State's admission to the Western Conference. After a year's leave of absence, he will retire July 1, 1953.

Top Men Shifted
Dr. Muelder, a recent appointee to the State Civil Service Commission, has been an M.S.C. staff member since 1935. He was director of the education and cultural relations division of the American military government in Germany in 1948 and 1949.

Other top changes:
Dr. Edward W. Weidner, head of the M.S.C. governmental research bureau, appointed to succeed Dr. Muelder; Dr. Edward K. Sales, director of the small animal clinic, appointed head of the department of surgery and medicine; Dr. G. R. Moore promoted to director of the large animal clinic; Dr. Chester A. Governor To OK Aug. 5 Primary

LANSING—(AP)—The Legislature's bill shifting the primary election from Sept. 9 to Aug. 5 will be signed when it hits his desk, Governor Williams announced yesterday.

The governor said he would sign with reluctance because he thought the Republican-dominated legislature was "playing politics" by ordering such an early primary.

But he said, he wants to make certain that servicemen throughout the world get a chance to vote in the November general election.

The Sept. 9 primary date is too late, officials agree, for ballots to be printed and mailed to overseas posts in time to return for the November election.

Williams said the primary could just as well have been moved to after mid-August, providing enough time for the soldier vote and "a shorter, crisper campaign to bring out the issues clearly."

He said Wayne county election officials had agreed to do their best to get primary ballots printed so early but that they reported they would be seriously "inconvenienced" by the Aug. 5 date.

The Aug. 5 already means nominating petitions for public officials will have to be filed by June 17. County political conventions will be held between Aug. 10 and 14 and the state conventions Aug. 16 to nominate for the state tickets.

The governor said he also would sign a bill providing nominating petitions for delegates to county conventions be filed 60 days before the primary.

Guards Held Captive By 232 Convicts In Riot At Rahway, N. J.

By ALBERT FULLING and FRANCES LEWINE
RAHWAY, N. J.—(AP)—Rioting convicts staged a major rebellion at Rahway state prison today, in sympathy with a four-day mutiny at Trenton state prison 40 miles away.

A group of 232 unruly prisoners at the farm grabbed control of a dormitory wing last night and held nine prison guards as hostages in the fifth prison outbreak in New Jersey in three weeks.

Want Warden Fired
At Trenton—where the stubborn rebels are demanding the firing of the warden and a revamping of the parole system—69 convicts barricaded in the prison printing shop let one of their four prison employee-hostages go after he had a mild heart attack.

The Rahway convicts hung huge bedsheet signs on the shattered windows this morning, with crude black lettering:

"We want a new parole system," one sign said. "Tell the truth, we have radios in here." "The parole board isn't fair. We want a change."

A prison source said the embattled convicts listened to news broadcasts of the riots on tiny crystal set radios they fashioned out of magnetized steel and tin tobacco cans.

As a crisp spring dawn paled the searchlights trained on the massive stone walls of the dormitory wing, the prisoners inside set up a wild chorus of catcalls, jeers and whistles.

Prison officials said they had reason to believe the nine hostage guards were unharmed. They said they would wait out this mutiny just as they have in Trenton for four days.

A dozen guards, armed with sidearms, rifles and riot guns, grimly paced a parapet while in a meadow next to the prison farm a herd of cows mooed their way to pasture in bucolic contrast.

There are a total of 1,000 convicts in the prison farm, which takes care of the overflow from the Trenton prison. There are 1,300 in Trenton prison. The vast majority of prisoners at both institutions are taking no part in the riots.

Canadian Navy Planes Plunge Into Atlantic; Seven Airmen Missing
HALIFAX, N. S.—(AP)—Two Canadian navy planes crashed into the Atlantic Ocean last night during a training attack on the cruiser Quebec. The seven men aboard—five officers and two seamen—were still missing early today.

Reports indicated the planes collided in the air about 70 miles off Nova Scotia.

The Quebec, which led a surface flotilla of searchers, found wreckage of the planes but no trace of survivors. Bad weather curtailed an air search.

Votes Whooped Up For Eisenhower In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Republican backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower whooped up today a final "Get Out The Ike Vote" drive for Tuesday's Pennsylvania primary election.

In stark contrast, since the balloting will help choose most of the members of the third largest delegation to the GOP national convention, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, asked specifically that voters not ballot for him. They could, by writing in his name.

And on the Democratic side of the election, no concerted effort of any kind was being made to obtain write-in votes for any of the party's possible nominees.

The primary, under Pennsylvania law, offers voters an opportunity to voluntarily express their preference for Presidential candidates. But the result is not binding in any way on the convention delegations.

Airliner Down With 28 Aboard

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A non-scheduled airliner carrying 25 passengers and a crew of three crashed and burned, the sheriff's office reported, in suburban North Whittier Heights.

Sheriff's officers said a rancher located the ship, missing more than six hours, and said it was "down and burning."

There were no immediate reports on casualties nor of how the crash occurred.

The ship was last heard from at 3:33 a. m. (U.S.T.) when it was in contact with the Los Angeles International Airport control tower, presumably attempting an approach and landing in murky weather.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the ship was operated by North Continent Airlines and the flight originated in New York, with stops across country at Cleveland, Amarillo, Tex., and Phoenix, Ariz. The CAA said the "main body" of the passengers, presumably the 25, boarded at Cleveland.

Miami Jeweler Pays $15,200 For Ransom In Phony Kidnaping

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A wealthy Miami jeweler paid $15,200 "ransom" for return of his six-year-old son yesterday in what police called a phony kidnaping.

Daniel Richter was duped into paying $15,000 in jewels and $200 cash in what police said was "one of the cleverest and most perfectly timed" extortions in memory.

Boy Never Touched
The boy, Richard, was never actually kidnaped, police said, although Richter was convinced he was buying his son's safe return.

While police and the FBI marshalled forces to meet what they thought was a genuine kidnaping, the child was riding in a taxicab from a private school at Miami Beach to Doctor's Hospital in Coral Gables, a distance of about 12 miles.

Police said the plotters used the school, the taxi company and the hospital as unwitting dupes in their shakedown.

As police reconstructed the crime, it happened this way: A man who said he was "Dr. Henderson" called the Yellow Cab Co., at Miami Beach, and asked them to pick up Ricky Richter at Coburn School and drive him to the hospital, purportedly to be with his "gravely ill" mother.

Story "Verified"
Almost simultaneously, a woman's voice called the school authorities and said a taxi would arrive soon to pick up the boy.

Cab driver Bert Walowitz, 24, was sent to the school and picked up the boy. One member of the gang must have watched him because a telephone call then went to the father's office in downtown Miami.

The caller told Daniel Richter he had Ricky in his custody and that no harm would come to the child if the father cooperated.

"He said, 'This is purely a business deal and will require $50,000 in diamonds and $5,000 in cash for you to get your boy back,'" Richter reported.

Thousands Toil To Hold River In Bottleneck

OMAHA, Neb.—(AP)—The mad Missouri threw its worst at Omaha and Council Bluffs today with an army of workers still winning the battle to hold the great river in its strait-jacket of dikes.

The river crest—stretch of maximum of water flow—was so long and so subject to fluctuations that it couldn't be pinpointed but river forecasters said the rampaging river is at cresting stage and will continue to crest all day.

Wind Is Factor
At 9:30 a. m. (EST) the level was 30.24 feet, compared with the flood stage of 19. Some minor rising and falling will occur before the level begins to drop some 24 hours hence, the weather bureau said.

The predicted high had been 31.5 feet, but at this near-phenomenal level even the action of the wind can raise or lower the gauge readings by a foot or more.

The critical hours began before dawn when the slow-moving flood crest began surging into the seven-mile long funnel of sodden dikes protecting the lowlands of the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Farm Dikes Doomed
The next 48 hours may determine whether the tremendous water pressures will burst through levees and cause more agony and damage along this river which has become a monster of destruction.

Socialists Can't Get On Ballot

LANSING—(AP)—The one-day old Trucks Communist Control law was used today to bar the Socialist Workers party from the Michigan ballot.

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr., denied the party a ballot position on the basis of an April 10 memo from the attorney general declaring the party to be subversive.

Governor Williams signed the bill into law yesterday. It forbids any Communist party nominee a place on the ballot.

The denial was made in a letter to Howard Lerner of Detroit, chairman of the Socialist Workers party.

Lerner has contended that the party actually is anti-Communist. The party had filed sufficient petitions to secure a place on the ballot.

Meanwhile, forty-five state police posts are ready to register Communists under the new law today—but officials don't expect much of a rush.

State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, whose agency was designated by the legislature to receive the registrations, said each police post would be provided with forms for the registration.

The law requires Communists and members of Communist front organizations to register by Tuesday midnight.

Leonard said he would not be surprised if no one registered under the law. That was the experience of the State of Texas when it adopted a similar act, he said.

Big Olds Contract
DETROIT—(AP)—Michigan industries were awarded Army ordnance contracts totaling $4,278,035 last week. The largest contract, $3,514,786 went to the Oldsmobile division of General Motors Corp. for 90 millimeter guns. The award brings the total Oldsmobile contract to $42,699,000.

Manager Named At Detroit Fair

DETROIT—(AP)—Harry H. Wright of Lawrence, Mich., is the new manager of the state fair board of managers.

He was named yesterday to succeed Sydney Phillips of Charlotte, who resigned following his indictment by a one-man grand jury for allegedly accepting a bribe from a fair concessionaire.

Eldon McLachlan of Ewart was named vice president at the board meeting.

Charles Figg, State Director of Agriculture, reported that vandals recently had done $5,000 worth of damage to the fair clubhouse, breaking 80 windows, smashing plumbing and destroying furnishings. He estimated the non-insured loss at $5,000.

The board of managers approved in principle a request from the Ford Dealers Association to build a permanent display building at the fairgrounds. Its products now are shown in a temporary structure. The building still must be approved by the State Agriculture Commission and State Administrative board.

The managers agreed to keep fair admissions to 60 cents for adults but raised the age limit for admitting children from 12 to 14 years.

Support Charges, Hayes Told As He Accuses Council

Harold C. Hayes, Escanaba hotel owner and thrice-defeated candidate for the Escanaba City Council, last night charged the Council and city manager with "misappropriation of funds" and was invited to submit supporting evidence.

City Attorney Denis McGinn challenged Hayes to "get some evidence" and Hayes replied that he would "take it into court."

The controversy is of long standing. Hayes was first defeated as a candidate for Council in 1942, was again defeated in 1944, and in the April 7 election of 1952.

Audit Discussed
Hayes appeared before the Council as Mayor Robert E. LeMire opened the meeting to personal petitions or complaints.

He told the Council he wished to discuss the audit of city books for the year 1950-51 made by the auditing firm of Ernst and Ernst, Milwaukee, and directed his questions of City Manager A. V. Aronson.

The city manager informed Hayes that the city attorney had ruled on the recommendations of the auditors and that some of the recommendations were put into effect and others not, on the basis of the city attorney's ruling.

Information Available
Hayes, referring to the audit, asked questions concerning the steam utility and the contingent fund, and asked for a copy of the city attorney's opinions.

This information is available to him in the clerk's office, he was advised by the city manager. When Hayes asked that the city supply him with copies of the opinions, the city attorney when asked by the city manager said it is not the responsibility of the city to supply copies but it might be done if the city employees were not busy on other work.

In connection with the audit report on the contingent fund City Controller Alfred Lawrence told Hayes that city department budgets are sometimes overspent or underspent, but the total appropriations did not exceed the city's revenues.

Charges "Misappropriation"
All major items are passed upon by the Council before they are charged to the contingent fund, Lawrence added.

"What about all this money that has been misappropriated?" Hayes asked at one point in the discussion.

Another time in discussion with the city manager Hayes said:

"I didn't misappropriate the money in the steam plant, it was you."

Hayes also charged that the Ernst and Ernst audit was the first "honest" audit the city has had, and the city manager replied, "It is not."

Newspaper "Financial Report"
Besides the opinions of the city attorney in connection with the audit, Hayes also asked for copies of all records in connection with the city's purchase of the old brewery company building several years ago. These records are also available in the city clerk's office, he was advised.

Hayes also demanded that the City Council obtain "a financial report of the administrative costs of the newspaper (Escanaba Daily Press) for the past 14 months."

The newspaper, he said, "belongs to all the taxpayers." (The late John P. Norton, sole owner of the Daily Press, bequeathed his estate including the newspaper to the Escanaba School District to establish a scholarship fund in memory of his wife. The estate is now in process of probating.)

Answered "100 Times"
Concluding discussion at the Council meeting was as follows: Mayor LeMire: "I think Mr. Hayes, if you would direct that question to the School Board, I think you would be directing it to the proper body. If I am wrong, Mr. City Attorney, will you correct me? I don't think I am in a position to know."

Attorney McGinn: "I think that Mr. Hayes has had that answered to him, probably one hundred times in the last year. I think that if he wanted to know about that he could have gone down to the Probate Court or asked the executor of the estate. He knows that. He is only coming up here to try to embarrass the City Council."

Calls For "Evidence"
Hayes: "I am not trying to embarrass anyone. I will tell you something, Denis. When the city attorney represents the Upper Michigan Power and Light Company—now that you brought that up—and represents the city and represents the Pioneer Aviation and represent the city, which the city got no money out of—I don't think that is playing the game."

Attorney McGinn: Now, Mr. Hayes, I have listened to you around this community trying to take people apart because they are in municipal affairs for years. I think it is time that you start, if there is something wrong with city government, to get up and say so. You are accusing Mr. Aronson here of misappropriation of funds tonight. If you have any evidence of that, bring it up here."

"Take It Into Court"
Hayes: "What about the audit?" Attorney McGinn: "Don't start accusing people without some evidence. Bring it up here and prove it."

Hayes: "I am offering the audit."

Attorney McGinn: "Now listen Mr. Hayes. If you are accusing Mr. Aronson and the Council of misappropriation of funds—get some evidence. I don't think you have, and I don't think you have any right of accusing Mr. Aronson and members of the Council of misappropriation of funds."

Hayes: "Denis, if that is the way you feel about it I will take it into court."

Will Improve Danforth Road

Rebuilding and resurfacing of about three-quarters of a mile of the Danforth road in the Escanaba city limits is scheduled over a period of years as funds are available, City Manager A. V. Aronson last night informed the City Council.

Petitioners asked the Council to make the improvements and said the road was in bad condition now.

The city manager reported that starting July 1 the city will begin rebuilding 500 feet of the roadway and that the schedule calls for 500 feet of improvement each season until completed. The roadbed is ever muck soil and fill and surfacing is required to prevent break-up each spring.

Discuss Bus Service
In other business the Council heard George Erdman ask for city subsidy of a bus to give limited service in Escanaba. He was advised that transportation studies show that such subsidy would be expensive and might even then not halt financial failure of the suggested bus line.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire told Erdman that if the city started such a project it would be necessary, in fairness to all taxpayers, to extend service to all parts of the community.

Despite a $50 a month contribution from the city to the bus line for one year prior to the last owner it still did not pay out, the mayor said. The bus line has "been a losing proposition for years," he added.

Ask Street Paving

The Council received with appreciation a letter from John Anthony praising the Fire Department for its effective work in extinguishing a fire at Anthony's industrial plant.

Petitions for paving and curbing one block on Sixth Ave. S. in the 1200 to 1300 blocks were referred to the city engineer for the preparation of plans and cost estimates.

Grass Fires Continue To Call Out Firemen

Escanaba firemen were called out on six uncontrolled grass fires Thursday afternoon, one of which caused slight damage to two buildings in the U. P. State Fair grounds.

The grass fire at the fairgrounds was put out after it had reached the sides of the horse and chicken barns.

Another small fire, in a garage belonging to Paul Menard, 925 S. 15th St., caused approximately $25 damage to the interior of the building. The fire started in a rubbish pile.

manager the Council approved return to the state conservation department for sale as private property a city-controlled area on South 14th St. between 14th and 15th Avenues S.

Council also approved a resort liquor license for Mark Sabuco, which is subject to approval by the state liquor control commission, which issues the license.

Approximately 200 Escanaba city employees have been granted a three per cent across-the-board pay raise retroactive to Jan. 28 as recommended by the city civil service commission and approved last night by the Escanaba City Council.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said that in the past 16 months the employees have received raises totaling 22 cents. Hospitalization and life insurance are fringe benefits.

By Council action last night, as recommended by the civil service commission, employees will receive three weeks paid vacation starting with 15 years service, rather than 20 years as previously in effect.

Erlandsen For More
Several city employees appeared before the Council to appeal for greater than a three-per-cent raise. They said the request to the civil service commission had been for six cents.

Francis Costley, electrical department employee, said the civil service commission was not unanimous in its recommendation for three per cent increase and that Einar Erlandsen, commission member, "said it was not enough."

(Rep. Erlandsen, Delta county representative in the state legislature, was appointed to the city civil service commission before his election to the legislature. He continues as a member of the commission.)

Cost To Taxpayers
John DeChantal, public works employee, said the union for which he was spokesman "accepted the three per cent under protest."

George Erdman and Palmer Derouin, fire department employees, also entered a request for a pay hike above three per cent. Mayor Robert E. LeMire pointed out that the city has a problem in raising funds to operate the city and that pay increases and other

Randall Lauds Civic Service

The spirit of volunteering to serve in community work when one is not necessarily required to help out but sincerely desires to do so was explained by Clifford A. Randall, of Milwaukee, last night as "obedience to the unenforceable—one of three domains of human activity."

Randall was the principal speaker at the annual dinner-meeting of Rotarians of Escanaba, Manistique, Gladstone and Munising in the Nahma Community clubhouse. More than 70 Rotarians, including some from Marquette, attended. Escanaba was the host club, and Dr. Roy B. Johnson, Escanaba club president, presided.

The Milwaukeean, who is past district governor of Rotary International and a candidate for director of the organization in this area, was introduced by Russell Watson, of Manistique, Rotary's governor in this district.

Fellowship And Service

The other two domains of human activity, Randall said, are law, whereby one is required to do certain acts, and free choice, whereby one does certain things because he wants to.

"But obedience to the unenforceable is the spirit of volunteering," he explained. "Rotary has been developing within the individual this spirit of doing the right thing in community work and other types of volunteer service. Rotary is based on fellowship and service."

"There have been many changes since Paul Harris founded Rotary in 1905 at a time when Teddy Roosevelt was president, and trying to break up monopoly and power, but Rotary has continued to grow and expand. Rotary has substituted service for power, friendliness for hate and understanding for intolerance."

Increase In Church Going

Dwelling on the principle of bringing out the best in an individual to volunteer and to be "obedient to the unenforceable," Rotary has grown steadily and surmounted the obstacles of different languages, the speaker said.

He emphasized that as long as this spirit continues, there is promise for the future. The seizure of the steel industry by the Federal government, he brought out, is a prime of example of the danger of losing our freedoms.

"The loss of freedoms are not the fault of institutions but rather the faults of individual men," Randall stressed in pointing to the necessity of continuing individual volunteer service toward bettering present conditions.

"It is heartening to see an increase in church going. That is an indication of a desire to satisfy the inner spirit."

Manistique Team Wins

In addition to the speaker, Watson and Dr. Johnson, others seated at the speaker's table were A. W. Moberg, secretary of the Escanaba Rotary club; O. H. Anderson, incoming president at Gladstone; William Cook, Manistique president, and Leonard C. Smith, Marquette president. Group singing was led by Noble Swenson, of Gladstone.

The Manistique bowling team consisting of Capt. Otmer Schuster, Elwood Taylor, R. G. Hentschell, John Kelly and Fred Hahne, successfully defended its four-club bowling championship in a team total-pin match preceding the dinner. Manistique scored 2,405.

Members of the Gladstone team were E. H. Huesner, E. C. Olson, Clarence Goodman, Hubert Bray and B. C. Chaffield, and Escanabans competing were Joseph H. Ivens, Joseph Heirman, John A. Lemmer, Warren I. Morrison, Juel Lee and James G. Ward, Jr.

A chicken dinner was served by the women's group of St. Anne's Church of Nahma.

Bids from three firms for the conversion of gas appliances in the city with safety automatic shut-offs in connection with the change-over to propane city gas were referred to the city manager and his consultants for a report at next meeting.

The Council scheduled public hearing at next meeting on the proposed sale of city-owned lots in North Escanaba east of the fair grounds. Purpose of the hearing is to determine which lots shall be sold for residential use and which for commercial use.

Also referred to the manager for study was a proposal to establish sub-stations in North Escanaba for the convenience of city utility customers in paying utility bills. The city received an offer of Norman Dahlke, 1130 Stephenson Ave., to use his store.

Walleye Season Opens May 21

Fishing for walleyes on Lake Michigan and Green Bay will not open until May 21, although walleyes may be taken in inland waters beginning April 26, the conservation department reports.

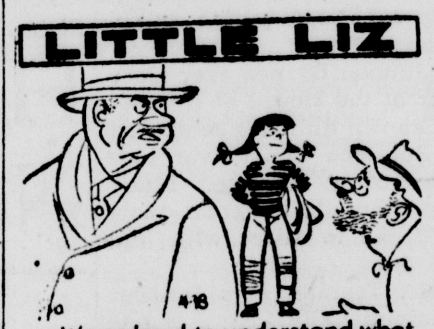

The walleye season on bay waters is from May 21 to March 31. In connection with the inland water fishing of walleyes with hook and line beginning April 26, the department points out that inland waters includes inland lakes and rivers—with exception of the Whitefish river at the head of Little Bay de Noc from Chippeny Creek to the river mouth.

This section of the Whitefish river is closed to fishing of any kind from March 16 to May 20. The closing is a special order of the Michigan Conservation Commission to protect spawning walleyes in the lower river. The order will not expire until Dec. 31, 1955.

Local conservation officers recommended closing of the lower reaches of the Whitefish river several years ago following the arrest of persons who were spearing the walleyes on their spawning run.

Scholarship Funds Emphasize Importance Of Higher Education

THE establishment of a $10,000 scholarship fund by the late Mrs. A. J. Young in memory of her husband follows a pattern established here by several other civic-minded community leaders. Previously established scholarship funds here include the H. W. Reade scholarship, the Catherine Bonifas scholarship and the Anna C. Norton scholarships.

The largest of these is the Anna C. Norton fund, established by the late John P. Norton, owner and publisher of the Escanaba Daily Press, who bequeathed his entire estate to the Board of Education, except for small bequests to his brothers. In her will bequeathing $10,000 for scholarship purposes to the Board of Education, Mrs. Young specified that the fund be established in perpetuity, with the income to be used for the scholarship purpose. This conforms to the policy already established by the Board regarding the previous scholarship bequests.

The scholarships provided as a result of the foresight and generosity of local community leaders serve more than the recipients who realize financial assistance. They help to emphasize the importance of high school graduates continuing their education, thereby encouraging more youngsters to attend colleges and universities.

Check On McGranery Could Save Headaches

AND so it comes to pass that Washington, in its wisdom, will have a cabinet appointee passed upon by the department he is supposed to become head of and in which he once was the No. 2 man.

The man is U. S. District Court Judge James P. McGranery of Philadelphia, named by President Truman to be U. S. Attorney general, succeeding J. Howard McGrath.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which must approve the appointment, has asked to see a full and up-to-date FBI check on McGranery, particularly his connection with the Amerasia case. Some senators are predicting privately the committee's look at the record may take weeks.

The Amerasia case, it will be recalled, concerned the World War II theft of secret government documents. McGranery, then with the Justice Department, was in charge of the prosecution of the case.

McGranery later testified before a congressional committee that he made a "deal" with the principal defendant, Philip J. Jaffe, in which the latter pleaded guilty and was fined $2500.

Testimony at the hearings, held in 1948, was withheld from the public for four years, although the committee did issue a general report.

There were some complaints of a whitewash. McGranery defended his action in making the "deal" by stating it was the only way the case could have been handled in view of the legal circumstances.

What we're getting at here, is that it does seem President Truman might have chosen for so ticklish a job as attorney general a man less open to criticism, justified or not, than McGranery.

McGranery would be stepping into one of the hottest spots in Washington. In fact, the thoroughly sinned McGrath suggested to his successor that he bring to the job a pair of asbestos britches.

There's yet another fact which might work against McGranery's effecting a smooth working operation as attorney general. In testifying as to his actions in the Amerasia case he blamed the weakness of his position as head prosecutor on bungling by the FBI in obtaining evidence.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI head, isn't likely to forget that criticism, which could bring on a situation not entirely conducive to good Justice Department morale.

But the main thing is that the people of America are getting pretty well fed up with the kind of bungling and worse which has been taking place in Washington.

They deserve better and sooner or later they're going to get it. If the appointment of McGranery is a step in the right direction, all right. But if it isn't, the people responsible should make every effort to establish that fact.

A long look at the facts now can save a lot of headaches later. And headaches right now are what the country has just about all it can take.

UNCLE EF

In justice to nature, folks should remember that only the skunk is born to bad odor. The poor little mink got its taint in Washington.

The Doctor Says... Shingles Result From a Virus Attack on the Nervous System

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Shingles, or herpes zoster, is a miserable affliction. It may attack those who are in good health as well as those who are weak or ailing. In elderly people, in particular, the painful symptoms may go on and on, and in spite of any treatment which can be given.

The disease is the result of an attack of a virus on the nervous system. The first sign of the disease is generally pain or a burning sensation on some area on one side of the body. Tingling or other peculiar sensations are frequent. It is common around the chest, the hips, the abdomen, and the face. It can affect the eyes.

After a few days of these sensations, blisters appear on the skin. But it is really not correct to speak of herpes as a skin disease. When several days have passed the blisters burst and dry up, finally disappearing altogether.

Herpes may come with or immediately after acute infections like pneumonia or meningitis; it can come in epidemics or without any cause which can be identified.

There seems to be some relation between herpes and chickenpox. Small epidemics of herpes have arisen at the same time as epidemics of chickenpox. Occasionally a person will develop chickenpox from contact with a patient with shingles. The opposite has also been reported.

TREATMENTS ARE VARIED
A great many different kinds of treatment have been used for shingles. Soothing lotions or other preparations help a little. X-rays have been used with success—at least in some cases. Antibiotics also may have some value.

Herpes in elderly people is often a particularly serious thing because it hangs on so long. One cannot help but be distressed about this and hope that some better and quicker method of cure and relief will be discovered soon.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS
Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—My old friend Jimmie Byrnes, the much-loved governor of South Carolina, has released a series of letters between himself and President Truman which puts me right in the middle. In fact, I am afraid that a column of mine, written several years ago, helped to touch off the current Truman-Byrnes hassle.

One of the Truman letters to Byrnes, published today, contains the usual Trumanesque references to me. This is not exactly news. To make it news, Mr. Truman would have to say something nice about me. That would be news.

In this letter he tells Byrnes: "I don't think he ever told the truth intentionally."

Part of this letter was published by me in a column of Dec. 17, 1949, which makes that part of it even less news today. However, what now has become definite news is whether Truman was dissatisfied with Byrnes as secretary of state, and made life so difficult for him that he eventually got out.

Today, Truman claims that Byrnes was a poor secretary of state, and tells how, after the Moscow conference around Christmas of 1945, he summoned Byrnes down to the yacht Williamsburg and read him a tough memo bawling him out for failing to keep him informed on what happened at Moscow. This memo read in part:

"I received no communication from you while you were in Moscow. . . . The protocol was not submitted to me. . . . The communiqué was released before I saw it. . . . I do not intend to turn over the complete authority of the President nor to forego the President's prerogative to make the final decision. . . ."

Secretary Byrnes, however, says that no such memo was ever read to him. He denied this flatly, even in the face of the published text of the memo in the recent biography of President Truman, "Mr. President."

WHO IS RIGHT?

Because of this flat, emphatic contradiction of facts, the American public would like to know who is right.

I have known Jimmie Byrnes ever since he was a member of the House of Representatives. I have known him as a senator, a member of the Supreme Court, war mobilizer, and as secretary of state. Many times I have paid tribute to his great qualities, and I don't like to differ with him now.

But, though Mr. Truman says I never "told the truth intentionally," here is one case where it might pay Mr. Truman to read the Merry-Go-Round. Because my columns during and after the Moscow conference support him rather than Byrnes.

For instance, on Dec. 23, 1945, while Byrnes was still in Moscow, I reported on the radio: "President Truman is not happy over the fact that his secretary of state, Jimmy Byrnes, has sent only two brief reports on his talks in Moscow."

A column written after the Moscow conference gives further details on the President's peeve against Byrnes. It reported: "Truman resented the fact that Byrnes operated as a one-man team. The President had almost nothing to say about foreign policy. Jimmie had the habit of playing diplomacy by ear. A master musician, he didn't worry about accompanists."

"Truman objected to this so vigorously that he almost fired his secretary of state. Just after Byrnes returned from the Moscow conference, he announced, even before he cabled a full report to the President, that he would give a radio report to the American people."

Truman was furious. Summoning Byrnes aboard the yacht Williamsburg, the President was all set for a showdown. The showdown never developed. Though Byrnes received some caustic criticism from Admiral Leahy for yielding to the Russians, Truman finally fell for Jimmie's plausible explanation and agreed to let him go ahead.

"Immediately after the flare-up, Truman sent a cable to General Marshall asking him to be secretary of state. . . . Significantly, Truman sent the cable through the War Department's secret code, not the State Department's, and Byrnes never knew about the message until some weeks later."

BOTH MEN PARTLY RIGHT

The above column excerpts indicate that both Byrnes and Truman may be partly right in their current dispute over who fired whom. In brief, Truman was unhappy with Byrnes, wanted to fire him, but never did so. Perhaps also, Truman prepared the critical memo now published in the book "Mr. President," but, as I indicated above, never actually read it to Byrnes.

High Fashion Atop Elephants Is News This Year In Circus Parade

By GAILE DUGAS

NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Under the bright lights of the Big Top, an elephant moved majestically into the ring wearing the latest thing by John Fredericks.

Instead of a howdah, he had a huge floral hat and inside it, there was a girl.

The circus band struck up a jazz version of "Singin' in the Rain." And the Fashion Show—Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey style—was under way!

When he got into the ring, the elephant turned completely around, just like a high fashion model, the better to display himself, the girl and the hat. The kids of all ages clapped and whistled and cheered. The elephant, striding a model's stride, moved on.

The elephants had lots of things up their trunks. One of them was carrying a mannequin who was all but hidden under an enormous silver mesh umbrella by Mr. John, the hatter. It looked like a cross between a Christmas tree and Niagara Falls at the height of the tourist season.

The big cats stopped snarling in their cages and turned pale when they saw an elephant come

Then came a brilliant turquoise dress by Adele Simpson and a plain gray elephant by Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey. The gown had an enormous skirt in tiers of silk shantung that was propped up by a ruffled net petticoat.

Close by, there was real proof that clothes made the elephant, the girl or the man.

At this dress rehearsal in Madison Square Garden, the clowns shuffled about during the fashion show, firing a fake cannon and generally cutting up in sweat-shirts and old trousers. Somehow, without the baggy pants and the brilliant false noses, it just wasn't the same. It seemed like a lot of serious men hard at work.

Hattie Carnegie added to the dazzling procession with a feminine concoction of lace in a fragile light blue. The girl inside it also wore a tiara and necklace in rhinestones that picked up and reflected the blazing circus lights.

Ceil Chapman did a dress in lace, too, but hers had big bouquets of Spring flowers floating down the sides of the dress and the elephant.

Claire McCardell, Monte Sano and Pruzan, Clare Potter and Nettie Rosenstein bedecked the other elephants and girls that minced along in this first fashion show in circus history.

Later there were clowns like Emmett Kelley. Very funny. And girls on flying trapezes. Very pretty and daring. But after all, not really high fashion, you know.

Rhine And Rhone May Be Linked In New Waterway

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The 20th century dream of a unified Europe may come closer to reality through linkage of two of the continent's most famous rivers.

Presently under study is a plan to construct an international canal which would join the headwaters of the Rhine River with those of France's tempestuous Rhone, says the National Geographic Society. The plan would open for commerce a 1,300-mile water route between northern and southern Europe, from the North Sea to the Mediterranean.

The water highways have already made an impressive contribution to the European lands through which they flow. The 500-mile Rhone opened the heart of France to Phoenician, Greek, and Roman cultures. Christianity used the route on its journey north.

Later, in the commercial development of the continent, the 800-mile Rhine assumed the starring role. Channeled upper reaches of that vigorous river gave inland Switzerland a port city, Basel; provided industrial Nancy, Metz, and the Saar areas with an outlet to the sea, and made trade for Strasbourg, Mannheim, Frankfurt, and other cities.

Truly international, the Rhine rises high in the Alps. It flows down across Lake Constance and eastward through a harness of hydroelectric projects to Basel. Called Switzerland's Golden Gate, Basel receives one third of the nation's imports, which are brought up the Rhine at about half the cost of overland transport.

Most Rhine traffic—which in normal times reaches a staggering total of 90,000,000 tons a year—is between Strasbourg and the North Sea. Along this path, barges filled with coal, petroleum, grain and other commodities move through spectacular scenery dotted with medieval castles, haunted by legends, and accented by picturesque towns and busy cities.

Today, an enormous hydroelectric development project, partially completed, is converting the power of the Rhone's unruly waters into electricity. Around the dams, which also provide water for farmland irrigation, a series of ship canals is under construction.

I made it plain a month ago that I was opposed to action that would involve us or our allies of the United Nations in a war with China—British Prime Minister Winston Churchill

Good Evening...

By OLINT DUNATHAN

TAKING THE OATH—Escanaba's city election was still fresh in the minds of its citizens when the "new" City Council met in organization session.

Four members of the five-man Council were recently-elected and therefore must be sworn into office. The oath was administered by City Clerk George Harvey separately to the four men.

The clerk raised his right hand, the councilman-elect raised his.

"Do you solemnly swear that you will support the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of Michigan, and that you will to the best of your ability faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of Councilman of the City of Escanaba?"

Four times this oath of office was administered and four times the answer came—"I do."

BACKGROUND FOR DUTY—The flag of the United States of America, displayed on the wall back of the council table in City Council chambers was a fitting background for the ceremony.

Here were men, selected by the majority of their fellows in election under procedures established by law, who will comprise the Escanaba City Council.

On their shoulders rest the responsibility of establishing policies of city government. The words of the oath of office gave the guiding hand to their deliberations—"to the best of your ability and faithfully and impartially—"

THE CHOSEN ONES—For two of the four "new" councilmen the oath was not new, for the other two it was a first experience.

Looking at the councilmen gave an impression of a composite of Escanaba's citizenry. One is a lawyer, one a business man, another is a railroad man, and the fourth of the "new" councilmen is a department head of a retail store.

The holdover councilman, whose term does not expire for another two years, is traffic agent for a railroad.

All of these men are the chosen ones—chosen to work to the best of their ability for the good of their community.

They will meet at least twice each month in regular sessions and many more times in special sessions and for their service they will receive not more than $120 each per year. City Clerk George Harvey estimates the total number of meetings at close to 60 annually.

CITIZEN INTEREST—This was the organization meeting of the City Council. Four new men would take their places at the council table and one of them would become mayor by Council selection.

Following precedent, Mayor Guy Knutson turned the gavel over to incoming Mayor Robert E. LeMire, who made a brief acceptance speech and brought the meeting to order as presiding officer.

In Escanaba the title of mayor is honorary. It is accorded the councilman receiving the highest vote in the last election. He receives no additional compensation as mayor.

How many of Escanaba's citizens (many of whom actively campaigned for their candidate) turned out for the meeting?

Well, present besides the councilmen were only four persons not connected with city government—Mrs. LeMire, wife of the incoming mayor; Atty. and Mrs. John Root, the incoming mayor's sister and brother-in-law; and yours truly as reporter for the Daily Press.

NO INDICATION—The virtual absence of private citizens at the council meeting did not—in our opinion—indicate lack of citizen interest in city affairs.

The people of Escanaba are vitally interested in what the City Council does—but their concern becomes evident by attendance at Council meetings only when they must appear to petition for or to oppose some measure.

Escanaba councilmen are sworn to "faithfully and impartially" serve the people; and by the same token the people have the responsibility as citizens to know what constitutes good government and to work for it.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

QUESTIONS THE READERS ASK
Hartford, Conn.—"Please explain the correct usage of 'when' and 'whenever'."—Mrs. H. E. F.

Answer—"When" and "whenever" are both adverbs as well as conjunctions. "When" means the time at which time a definite action took place. "Whenever" says at any time and every time a certain action takes place something else is true. Thus you may say, "When I came home last night the door was unlocked," and you refer to an event that was true at a certain time. If you say, "Whenever I come home at night I find the door unlocked," you mean that at any time of night that you might get home you always find the same situation. The latter sense may be and more commonly is expressed with "when"; as, "When I come home at night I find the door unlocked." Here, by using the present tense, you imply that your return at night is a rare occurrence; "whenever" makes it sound like a regular event. "Whenever," used in place of "when" in such constructions as, "Whenever did you hear that?" is sometimes frowned upon by purists. The usage is not common now, except as an Irishism or Scottishism, but it can be defended for the emphasis it lends.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I can't find the word 'octarena' in any dictionary. But if that isn't right, what is the name of the musical instrument which resembles a potato in shape?"—H. N. W.

Answer.—The name is "ocarina" (OC-uh-REE-nuh), not "octarena." Because of its shape and the sweetness of its mellow tone, those who play the instrument sometimes call it the "sweet potato." But the name is actually Italian, a diminutive of "oca," goose, because its body has a shape like that of a "little goose."

A market strike in Indiana has been settled. Well—because any market strike is just of lot of rot.

Subsidized Press Is Communist Weapon

Editor's note: The black market and a subsidized press—these are among the weapons of Communism. Here is an important and revealing story on the cold war, giving a new insight into the way Moscow operates. The information was gathered by William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, in a two-month tour of Europe.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
PARIS—(P)—Stalin waits for the time of conquest to ripen, and the money rolls in for his legions abroad.

It takes money—much money—to feed Stalinism.

Where does the money come from?

Even the salaries of Communist members of Parliament are tapped to swell the party coffers.

From Communist journalists and professionals come regular remittances—the member's income less a living allowance on the scale of a skilled worker.

From constant subscription drives on behalf of the Communist press come the francs and lire and marks of working people persuaded that their lot can be bettered.

But from Moscow comes the bulk of operating revenue. Communist couriers scurry about Europe with remittances doled out to parties according to their needs and importance. Some parties, in Scandinavia for instance, get virtually nothing. Others, particularly in France and Italy, are liberally aided so long as Moscow sees results forthcoming.

Buy On Black Market
A Soviet diplomat, immune from customs regulations, transports gold to be used to buy francs or lire or marks on the black market.

The black marketer in Paris or Rome or Frankfurt who sides up to the visitor to offer local money for American dollars may be indirectly in the employ of the Cominform. The Cominform assiduously gathers American dollars for its own ends.

Every possible source is tapped, even to raids on the treasuries of the unions which are dominated and controlled by the Communists. The money pours in under the impetus of rigid party discipline.

But the operations of a Communist party are highly expensive, particularly in the key areas of Europe. No matter how extensive the resources of the party domestically, Moscow must kick in.

There is a striking example of this. In an address to the French national assembly in November, 1948, Jules Moch, then interior minister, gave this explanation:

"The French Communist party and its various branches have the great advantage of having accounts at one single institution, the Banque Commerciale Pour L'Europe Du Nord. A peculiarity of this bank, which is a French limited company, is that its capital is divided into 100,000 shares, 97,000 of which belong to two Soviet governmental banks, The National Bank and the Foreign Trade Bank. The remaining 3,000 shares are distributed among various French and foreign Communist leaders.

"This French facade, therefore, is hiding a purely Soviet reality." The bank is still operating, French government sources say the total accounts of Communist organizations are overdrawn by 15 million francs ($4,260,000). In one month, August, 1948, the total overdrawn was 68 millions, without so much as a vince from the bank.

Millions For Red Press
In addition, large sums come from countries of Eastern Europe, either through transfer to the Banque Commerciale Pour L'Europe Du Nord or through the transport of gold under diplomatic cover.

Moreover, the Communist party spends millions on its press in the cities and the provinces. Again with France as the example: there are some 20 Communist dailies, 83 weeklies and 26 magazines. The rightist newspaper L'Aurore has estimated the Red bellwether paper, L'Humanite, needs more than 30 million francs a month for printing and editing. Aurore says L'Humanite runs on a deficit of millions monthly, and the Communist Ce Soir loses even more.

Communists in various countries did well by themselves during the wartime resistance to the Nazis, often they seized large sums of money as the Germans withdrew, and converted the money to their own purposes.

In France—and probably elsewhere, since France is the prototype—every Communist deputy in the national assembly must pay into party coffers the difference between his salary and that of a skilled worker of the metal trades. This also applies to members of municipal governments and departmental assemblies.

From salaries paid to Red representatives in the national assembly alone, the Communists received in 1950 a total of 166 million francs. These salaries were collected by the party fund. The national assembly members concerned received only the salary equivalent to that of a skilled metal worker—with a few exceptions in the upper levels. This system also is extended down through journalists and professional workers.

Abuse Franking Privileges
In another way the French government, in spite of itself, helps subsidize the Communist party.

Tons of literature for the party are sent out under the franking privileges of Communist legislators. Parliament must pay for distributing Communist orders and Communist propaganda sent out under the name of Jacques Duclos, who is a parliamentary secretary. Ten or 12 bags of mail a day go out from the assembly under the Communist franking privilege.

There is yet another source of Communist funds.

The enterprise fund is a device controlled by the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor in France and Italy. This is a fund assessed against workers, nominally to pay for such things as entertainment, showers and other facilities for the workers. But it is controlled at the top. The enterprise fund at the Renault plant in August, 1951, used a million francs to send 100 French workers to the youth festival in Soviet-controlled East Berlin.

In the waiting game Stalin plays in Europe, money is important. Moscow is not profligate with its disbursements, but when there is an immediate or long-range objective to be gained, money is no object.

How Much Should You Say? Avoid Extremes

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
Some people have no hesitancy about saying what they think. Others keep their thoughts to themselves. Still others are in the middle of the road. They express some of their thoughts and keep others to themselves. Which is better, both for the person and for the people to whom he expresses his thoughts? That is the problem raised in this letter:

"I just don't have the will power to speak up and have my say in an argument. I let it ride and then face it. This happens not only at home but also at work. I am sensitive and blush very easily. Should I let things pass by me without questions or arguments rather than explain the point of a subject?"
W. R.

Don't go to one extreme or another. It is bad to argue to the point where you are ready to engage in a knock-down, drag-out fight, and it is also bad to let things pass meekly without speaking up and asserting yourself.

The person who is always ready to argue to the bitter end merely antagonizes other people. Even if he is in the right, he rarely wins because his opponents are so mad they won't concede. Furthermore, he gets himself all worked up and unhappy about things that are often too trivial to bother about.

The meek as a lamb person, on the other hand, lets people ride over him and take advantage of him. They do not respect him nor do they consider his feelings. He, too, is not happy about the matter.

Like you, he goes away with seething anger stored up inside of him and fights imaginary battles with the person who has gotten the better of him. This does not make him happy nor does it add to his self-respect.

When you feel that you are in the right, say so. You can say what you have to say politely and kindly so that you won't antagonize people. You can be so firm about it that they will realize that you are in earnest. By doing this, you will win respect and you will feel better because you have gotten the matter off your chest.

Failure to speak up is not so much due to lack of will power but to excessive shyness and lack of feelings of security about your own opinions. If you are sure you are right, you have no need for hesitancy. Remember that you have a right to your opinions just as others have.

Mrs. Clarence Moore played a piano solo, Schubert's "Impromptu in A Flat Major." BEFORE I TOOK O-JIB-WA Cramps & Stiffness in Legs Bothered Me for 10 Years

"My grandfather was an herbalist, and taught me the value of nature's herbs," says Mr. Lewis Neapass, 644 Fairland Ave., Jackson, Michigan.

"I noted the herbs contained in O-JIB-WA BITTERS on the label and being familiar with most of them, I knew O-JIB-WA to be a very good formula. I suffered with cramps and stiffness in my legs for 10 years and even walking was painful and difficult. At last, I continued to work, it was always under a handicap. After a day's work, I came home so tired, but when in bed, I couldn't sleep. O-JIB-WA BITTERS was brought to my attention and being an all herb medicine, I decided to try it. I wasn't disappointed, as it has lived up to my expectations in every way. O-JIB-WA removed all the aches and pains of arthritis from my legs, gave me more pep and helped me to sleep better nights. I couldn't ask more for any medicine and am a real booster for O-JIB-WA BITTERS." You can buy it at any leading drug store in Michigan.

With Ray Crandall

Today we have a welcome note on Russ Hiltunen, former Escanaba pitcher now in Spring training with the Oshkosh Giants in Florida. Apparently that reported injury was not serious. Russ handled mound chores Wednesday as the Giants tripped Moultrie, Ga., of the Class D Georgia State League 4-2.

Wayne Tufnell, whose anesthetic fists carried him to the Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin open division lightweight championships recently, will headline that amateur boxing show in Green Bay April 26. The Manistishu battler will meet Green Bay's Eric Anderson, a clever, polished ringman. The semi-windup will send Ken Campbell, of Leo Legacy's Menominee-Marquette stable, against Bob Mullins of Green Bay. Paul Crawford of Manistishu fights Don King of Green Bay in the main preliminary. Promoter Gus Bodart says the card should be "the best show we ever had."

Carl Sawyer of Escanaba leaves Sunday for Milwaukee and the annual directors' meeting of the American Bowling Congress. Sawyer, who helped us with the Adolph Carlson bowling story yesterday, in an executive director in the ABC. He will compete in the tourney next week.

With a great deal of attention in Escanaba on sports and recreation for kids, it might be interesting to review briefly an article in the latest Wilson Sports Equipment magazine. The feature, titled "Youth Sports Programs Key to Growing Market" reveals that dealers are on the threshold of the greatest eight years of sports equipment sales this country or the world has ever known.

This is based on statistics which show that there were nearly 11,000,000 boys between the ages of eight and 17 living in the United States in 1950. By 1960, the article says, this figure will have grown to almost 16,000,000—an increase of 45 percent. Nearly 4,000,000 babies were born in 1951 which represents a new record and the 11th straight year of birth boom, it was pointed out.

Bears Reorganize; Beck Is Manager

Jack Beck, long associated with baseball in Escanaba, was named manager of the Escanaba Bears of the Tri County league at an organizational meeting held last night.

Beck, who came up through the ranks in Escanaba baseball and has been with the Bears for a number of years, succeeds Phil Brazeau who handled the team last season.

Asp President

Gust Asp was elected president of the club, Clem Tordeur vice president, Ken Gundersen secretary and John Fawcett treasurer. Named to the board of directors were John Nyquist, John Schwalbach, Beck, Clyde Nyquist, Emil Zitzer, Oliver Fuller and John Chriske. Clyde Nyquist will serve as property manager.

The Bears, defending champions in the Tri County League, will hold for their first workout Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the city recreation diamond on the Eastside of 23rd St. and Fourth Ave., Beck said.

Younger Players

The Bears will field a revamped lineup of local players this year with emphasis on youth. Younger players from high school and American Legion Junior baseball ranks will be relied upon to provide the nucleus of the team.

Because of the high school baseball schedule through the month of May, however, a makeshift team will have to be recruited to play early games until the younger players are free to join the team, Beck said. The Bears manager will contact members of last year's team and other veteran players in the city to help out until the regular team can be fielded, he stated.

The Tri-County League is expected to get into action in mid-May.

Yesterday's Stars

Michigan Opens Against Wayne

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—The University of Michigan baseball team launches its 32nd regular season campaign under Coach Ray Fisher here Saturday against Wayne University.

The Wolverines, who defeated Wayne 19-2 in the opener last year, won five of eight games on a spring training southern trip and are expected to improve.

Paced by Don Eaddy, the flashy freshman third baseman from Grand Rapids and Paul Lepley, a freshman unknown from Warrick, Ohio, the Wolverines surprised by hitting .300 for the entire southern trip. Eaddy was out front with 16 hits on 32 times at bat for a hot .500 percentage and Lepley was close behind with 14 of 31 for .451.

The Wolverines will follow up the Saturday contest with a game against Notre Dame here Monday. Marv Wisniewski, a 17-year-old Detroit freshman, was slated to start against Wayne. Coach Fisher had not picked his starter for the Monday contest.

Brownies Big Noise In Early Flag Race

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
"There's only one place to finish and that's first."

Rogers Hornsby made this sage comment before the season opened. His precocious St. Louis Browns act like he meant it. Running neck and neck with Cleveland and for the American League lead, they sound like the big noise of early season.

If the Browns keep winning when they get home, owner Bill Veeck can forget any more free beer nights for the customers. The long-abused Brownie fans float in a purple haze of contentment after three straight wins.

Let Cleveland and Brooklyn, the pre-season favorites, terrify the opposition with 17-hit binges. The spunky little Brownies make five hits do the same work.

Garver, Byrne, Cain

First Ned Garver. Then Tommy Byrne. And now Bob Cain, going the route against Detroit for a club that got only one complete game in three from 13 pitchers last season.

Cain, acquired from Detroit in a seven-man deal during spring training, rubbed it in yesterday by whipping his old Tiger mates, 3-1. Wandering Bob allowed nine hits but most of them were harmless singles.

That new Brownie lineup, with only one-third of the '51 personnel still on the roster, ruined Hal Newhouse's bright comeback hopes. Prince Hal, making his first start since last July 14, threw home run balls to Les Moss and Bob Nieman in the last two innings that sank the Tigers.

Cleveland wasted many of its 17 hits in running over Chicago for a third straight triumph, 5-3. Despite the heavy barrage that included a 425-foot homer by Luke Easter in the fifth, the Tribe gave Mike Garcia only a one-run lead going to the ninth.

Shantz Beats Yanks

Bobby Shantz, smallest pitcher in the league, beat the world champion New York Yankees with his left arm and bat to give Philadelphia a 3-1 decision over Eddie Lopat. The five-foot-six pitcher scattered nine hits and gave his team the lead run with a single in the fourth, breaking a 1-1 tie.

The Boston "rookie" Sox turned the heat on Washington for a 9-2 romp with freshman Faye Throneberry hitting a bases-loaded home run off Bob Johnson in the six-run sixth. Throneberry, just advanced to the Sox roster before opening day, smashed a two-strike, no-ball pitch into the Senators' bullpen in centerfield.

Brooklyn continued to pound the ball as though Manager Chuck Dressen expected to open up his 134 game lead by Decoration Day. In three wins at Boston, the Dodgers hammered 48 hits for a team batting average of .378. Yesterday Brooklyn won, 8-2.

Cards Tripped

Connie Ryan, an ex-Giant, slashed a two-run homer in the 11th inning to give his new Philadelphia Phil pals a 5-3 victory over the New York Giants. Del Ennis' spectacular barehanded catch of Willie Mays' screamer saved reliever Jim Konstanty in the 10th.

St. Louis was dumped from the unbeaten class by Pittsburgh's rookie-studded Pirates, 5-3. Three Cardinal errors and Peanut Lowrey's tumble that ruined a promising rally helped lefty Joe Mui register his first big league win. Ralph Kiner had three of the six Pirate hits as they pinned the loss on rookie reliever Eddie Yuhas.

Pinch hitter Lowrey fell down on the base lines to break up a threatened "big" inning for the Cards when they collected four hits but only two runs in the seventh.

Kenny Raffensberger, who always finds Chicago an easy mark, shut out the Cubs with five hits for Cincinnati's 3-0 edge.

Today brings the "second" openers when the clubs who were on the road Tuesday show their stuff before the home fans.

Tigers Fall 3-1 To Browns For Third Straight Defeat

CLEVELAND — (AP)—Cleveland's red hot Indians, tied for the American league lead with a perfect 3-0 record, open their season at home today against Detroit's cold, cold Tigers.

The Tigers were tied for eighth place with the Chicago White Sox with a 0-3 record, having been able to score only five runs in three games with the St. Louis Browns. Chicago has lost three straight to Cleveland.

The Tigers accumulated 22 hits over the three St. Louis games, but were whiffing and popping with men

Rapid River Gets 22 Out For Baseball

RAPID RIVER—Coach Norman Slough's Rapid River High School baseball team jumped off to an early practice start last week, getting outdoor practice sessions under way Wednesday.

Twenty-two candidates, five of them, seniors, reported for action which will go into full swing starting Monday. Rapid River will begin its schedule with such teams as Powers, Bark River, St. Joseph and Cooks as soon as possible.

Team candidates follow:
Seniors—George Anderson, Bill Goodman, Ivan Majestic, Wayne McMartin and Merrill Pedersen.
Juniors—Larry Lundin and Victor Zar.
Sophomores—Wesley Anderson, Waldon Johnson, Willard Mattson, Paul Schram and Robert Gardner.
Freshmen—Gerald Christensen, Robert Hamilton, Jay Huff, Louie Whipple, Ivan Stenac, Lewellyn Mosier, James Johnson, Raymond Johnson, Irving Lancour and James Lundberg.

Baseball Briefs

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—The ageless double play combination of Eddie Joost and Pete Suder continues to sparkle in the Philadelphia Athletics' inner defense. Joost, 36, and Suder, 35, have participated in four twin-killings so far, including a pair yesterday against the New York Yankees. The A's led the American league in twin killings last season with 204.

BOSTON — (AP)—A bright note for the Boston Braves in an otherwise dismal 1952 picture to date has been the hitting of catcher Walker Cooper. Big Coop has made five hits in 11 trips to the plate for a .455 average.

ST. LOUIS — (AP)—The nine chances Wally Westlake, Cardinals' outfielder, accepted yesterday were only four short of the National league record. Wally's defensive efforts were to no avail as the Stankymen lost to Pittsburgh, 5-3.

aboard the bases. For instance, right fielder Victor Wertz, who announced his intentions before the season to win both the home run and runs-batted-in championships, hasn't even had a hit.

Muffs Three Chances
Wertz had three chances with men on base yesterday, when the Tigers dropped their third in a row to the once lowly Browns by a 3-1 count. He had two chances as the Tigers bowed 5-4 the previous day, and failed to do anything with a man aboard as the Tigers dropped the opener, 3-0.

While Detroit was managing only a run on nine hits yesterday, Cleveland took its third straight from Chicago, 5-3, with a 17-hit barrage that included a 425-foot home run by Luke Easter.

Cleveland pitchers have given up only 14 hits so far, and the best of the staff, rapid Robert Feller was saved for today's home opener against the Tigers. He won 22 and lost only 8 last season. Detroit is going with Ted Gray, whose sore-armed 1951 record was 7-14. Diz Trout, Art Houtteman and Hal Newhouse were losers in Detroit's previous outings, although each turned in a creditable performance.

Two Homers
Newhouse, as a matter of fact, gave up only five hits yesterday. But he served up home-run balls to Les Moss and Bob Nieman in the eighth and ninth innings. The only other Brownie run came on a double by Marty Marion and a single by Nieman in the fourth.

The Tigers, meanwhile, nipped their former teammate Bob Cain for nine hits, but left seven base runners stranded.

Detroit got its lone run in the second when Johnny Groth singled to right, Steve Souchock doubled down the third base line and Newhouse scratched a single over second.

Matt Batts, who came to the Tigers from St. Louis in the Cain deal, almost got the first Detroit homer of the season in the fourth. Souchock was on third as Batts whammed one that fell just short of the left field stands and was caught by Jim Dyck.

Batts got himself tossed out of the game in the eighth. He told Umpire Jim Honochick a little too much about what he thought of his calling of strikes and balls.

After Nieman's home, Marlin Stuart took over and retired the Browns in the ninth.

Baseball Team At Rapid River Will Reorganize Monday

RAPID RIVER—The Rapid River baseball team, sponsored by the Lions Club, will meet to reorganize for the coming season Monday evening, April 21, at 7:30 at the Legion hall.

All interested players are invited to attend the meeting with the board of directors, elected last night. Heading the board is Bill Goodman, chairman, Fred Cavell, Archie Forrest and Frank Sevela. Goodman was named to attend the Bay de Noc reorganization meeting to be held Tuesday evening in Perkins.

Rapid River plans reentry in the Bay de Noc circuit this season.

Detroit Catcher House In Army

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Frank (Pig) House, Detroit Tiger catcher, is in the Army now, learning the fine points of soldiering at Fort Jackson, S. C.

House was inducted here yesterday for a 24-month Army tour. The 22-year-old catcher signed with the Detroit Tigers three years ago for a $75,000 bonus and a pair of automobiles for himself and his father.

House saw service with Flint of the Central league and Toledo of the American Association before being brought up to the parent club for duty last year.

Tiger manager Red Rolfe had figured to lean heavily on the former "bonus baby" for backstopping chores this season.

Lopez Happiest Man In Baseball

CHICAGO — (AP)—If there's a happier man in baseball today than Al Lopez, the affable skipper of the Cleveland Indians, try to find him.

Lopez is even happy that his Indians are favored to win the American league pennant. Most managers get sour when they're put on such a spot.

"I like being picked first," he smiled yesterday before leading his undefeated warriors back to Cleveland for their home opener against Detroit today.

"I think we belong there. Being picked to win the race makes other teams respect us and it makes our players respect their own ability—it gives them a glow and assurance."

After the tribe squeezed out a three-game series with the White Sox with a 5-3 victory yesterday, Lopez predicted a season bag of 85 wins for the Big Four of his pitching staff. Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia each took decisions over the Sox and Bob Feller will go after his No. 1 triumph today against the Tigers. They won a total of 79 games last year but the Indians finished in second place.

Milwaukee Takes 6 To 5 Victory

(By The Associated Press)
Close, one-run margins provided victories for three American Association teams Thursday, but Indianapolis didn't follow the pattern and went on a 17-hit spree to batter Columbus, 14-6.

Indianapolis, playing before only 465 fans at Columbus, got off to a six-run lead before the Red Birds rallied for four in the fourth inning to shell Lloyd Dickey.

Seven Indians hit safely in a six-run ninth. Paul Lehner accounted for five Tribe runs during the game with a pair of doubles and a single.

St. Paul checked a ninth-inning Kansas City uprising to pull out a 9-8 decision.

Minneapolis blasted a four-run eighth inning as Ray Katt and pinch-hitter Dom Dallesandro homered, but it wasn't enough and Milwaukee took a 6-5 victory.

Toughest Battle Ever For Mat Team Berths

AMES, Ia.—(AP)—The battle for the big zero score and a place on the 1952 U. S. Olympic wrestling team invading Helsinki this summer is the toughest in years, says the man who knows — the wrestler himself.

As the final trials moved into the third and fourth rounds today the original field of 174 competitors has slimmed down to 123 after the elimination of 51 men yesterday.

However, none of the veteran wrestling coaches here would guess who will be on the squad after Saturday's championship matches. Host officials agree that this is the strongest and most well balanced field in history.

Three 1948 Olympic team members, Lt. John Fletcher, 147.5, Henry Wittenberg, 191 and Bob Maldegan, heavyweight, made impressive showings yesterday.

Wittenberg, 33, barrel - chested New York policeman, won a unanimous decision over Harry Lanzl of Toledo University in the second round of the 191 pound class. Wittenberg, eight times National AAU winner, had Lanzl under control from the start but lacked the extra drive to pin the NCAA champion after getting two near falls.

Under the complicated scoring formula, Wittenberg picked up his first penalty point against Lanzl. He pinned Jim Heusbourg, of the U. S. Airforce in 2:26 of his first round match.

The rules provide one demerit for a decision win, three for a loss. After five demerits a contestant is eliminated. Only through a fall can a wrestler escape bad marks under the Olympic rules.

A 43-year-old West Coast veteran who wrestles on doctor's orders because of an arthritic condition, was a popular favorite with the crowd of 3,000 which saw the opening events of the tryouts. Dr. Melvin A. Northrup, former AAU champion, proved he still is a strong contender in the 147.5 class. He pinned Larry Ten Pas, Waukegan, Ill., high school lad in 12:55 and decided Navy Lt. Barton Downes of Kennett Square, Pa.

Coach Seeks Material To Fill Wolverine Grid Gaps

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Coach Bennie Oosterbaan turned today in a search to find the talent to fill the many vacancies on the Michigan football team.

With about 100 candidates to pick from, the Michigan coach opened a 20-day spring football practice that he hoped would turn up strong candidates for an almost completely new line and backfield.

And though no final choices will be made during the drills that wind up May 17, the workouts will provide a tentative blue print to build on this fall. In preparation for the 1952 campaign.

Vital Spot

But the "vacancy" sign was also hung out at right half and fullback in the backfield and every line position except left end, where the lithe Lowell Perry holds forth, and center, manned by rugged Dick O'Shaughnessy.

Two tailback candidates will be given the closest of scrutiny. Don Evans, whose promising start was cut short by a rib injury last season, and Duncan McDonald, the pin-point passer are a pair that could greatly strengthen the position. And Don Eaddy, currently pacing the hitters on the Wolverine baseball team, is another that might fit in there.

Freshman Prospect

Hoping to succeed the graduated Don Peterson at fullback are Fred Baer, a good-looking freshman, Dick Balzhiser, and letterman Laurie LeClaire, Dave Tinkham and Russ Rescorla.

Ted Topor, regular quarterback last season, is returning to that spot. Tom Witherspoon and Frank Howell head a good group of right half candidates.

Line-wise, the Michigan coach was looking for replacements for end Fred Pickard, tackles Tom Johnson and Ralph Stribe and guards Pete Kinyon and Jim Wolter.

Finding men to fill the positions of those offensive regulars is no small order. And the caliber of those replacements will make or break the Wolverine chances.

Good Ends

Oosterbaan has a fine crop of ends from which to pick. They include Capt. Merritt Green, Leo Schlacht, Thad Stanford, Gene Knutson, Bob Topp and John Veselenak.

Doctors Rap Pain-Killers

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association today spoke out against the indiscriminate use of pain-killing drugs to keep an injured athlete in action.

The publication, in an editorial, expressed the opinion that:

The use of local anesthetics on players hampered by such minor miseries as sore arms or backs or slight sprains apparently is growing.

Men so treated run the risk of serious injury.

The editorial set forth:

"The use and abuse of local anesthetic agents to enable amateur and professional athletes to continue active sports participation in the face of serious injury is apparently becoming more widespread."

"Hardly a month passes that even the casual reader of the sports pages does not find a reference to the injection of 'pain-killing drugs' in connection with some prominent athletic figure. xxx

"The various pressures, financial or otherwise, that have made winning more important than playing have been aired thoroughly during the last year. They have been responsible for allowing many young men risk serious, permanent injury for pay or prestige."

College Heads Scan Athletics

HOT SPRINGS, Va.—(AP)—The National Association of Collegiate Commissioners waded through routine business today to clear the stage for tomorrow's discussion on athletic recommendations of the American Council of Education.

Such matters as recruiting, grants-in-aid and scholarships, the length of athletic seasons and eligibility and the discussion of football and basketball rules were on the agenda.

The 10 athletic conference commissioners opened their four-day parley yesterday.

Association President Asa S. Bushnell, Eastern College Athletic Conference commissioner, said last night that the 10 conferences and the National Collegiate Athletic Association all agree with the ACE objectives. He said:

"We are all trying to accomplish the same thing—to improve college athletics. However, the difference of opinion between the groups has to do with the methods of accomplishing these objectives. We hope to eliminate those differences at this meeting."

The recommendations were drawn up by a committee of 10 college presidents last October. Dr. John A. Hannah of Michigan State headed the committee.

Six letterman tackles, Jim Balog, Ben Pederson, Don Bennett, Roger Zatkoff, Bruce Bartholomew and Dick Strozewski.

Bob Timm, Dick Beison, Don Dugger and Bob Timm are the guards that won letters a year ago.

Pushing O'Shaughnessy for the pivot job are Emil Morlock, Glenn Boers, Dean Ludwig and Wayne Melchiori, among others.

Chicago Kegler Hits 758 Series In ABC

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Albert Sharkey, a Chicago beauty supply salesman, slammed the most sensational series in the current American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday, he rolled to within 17 sticks of the all-time tourney mark in vaulting into first place in the single all events.

The 47 year old ace jolted 758 in singles and powered 1,934 in all-events. The record high in any event is 775, first last year at St. Paul by Lee Jouglaard of Detroit in singles.

Stan Slomenski, former national match doubles champ, rolled 599 for one of New York's finest, the Howard Clothes, and Frank Mataya, who carries a 212 in St. Louis league play, hit a soft 515 for Reineke Paint Co. of St. Louis.

Having racked up four strikes in a row as he came up for the final single frame, Sharkey was in need of a double and a good count to crack the record. But, with the pressure at its highest, the Chicagoan missed the head pin and left the Nos. 1 and 2 standing untouched. He converted the spare and bowled over eight pins on his final leave.

Sharkey had a 590 team total and a 586 doubles count.

The world champion E&B team of Detroit, composed of Capt. Louie Sielaff, George Young, Thern Gibson, Bill Bunetta, Billy Williams and Fred Bujack, will 1,888.

Sports Roundup

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK—In case it passed unnoticed, a baseball season has just opened without the game's new commissioner, Ford C. Frick, getting his picture in the papers or even threatening to have some owner investigated by his private police force.

As his lone concession to the majesty of the occasion, Frick promised to appear at Yankee Stadium today and present Casey Stengel's champions with their class rings. After that he intends to return to his desk and continue to conduct baseball's manifold affairs. It is his naive belief that this was what the owners hired him to do.

One of the finest things television has done, perhaps, is to make it possible for untold thousands of persons who never in their lives sat at a boxing match to watch such a truly magnificent athlete as Ray Robinson in action. We honestly believe this, though some undoubtedly will vote for grand opera and others will stand up for the animated beer commercials.

Most boxing men regard the sleek Negro as the greatest ring fighter pound for pound, who ever lived, and few expect to see his equal in the future. He will not be fighting much longer, so those who sat in their living rooms the other night and watched him annihilate Rocky Graziano were, we feel, highly privileged.

Only thing is, something's got to be done about a wife who keeps yelling "look, he's fainting him with his right!" You should get
